One equation then between two unknown quantities admits of an infinite number of solutions; but if we have as many different equations, as there are quantities, the number of solutions will be limited. Thus, while each of the equations $x = 10 - 2y$, $4x + 4 = 3y$, separately considered, is satisfied by an infinite number of pairs of values of x and y , there will only be found one pair common to both, viz. $x = 2$, $y = 4$, which are therefore the roots of the pair of equations, $x = 10 - 2y$, and $4x + 4 = 3y$. Equations of this kind, which are to be satisfied by the same pair or pairs of values of x and y , are called simultaneous equations. If there be three unknowns, there must be three equations, and so on: and moreover, these equations must all be different from one another; i. e. must all express different relations between the unknown quantities. Thus, if we had the equation $x = 10 - 2y$, it would be of no use to join with it the equation $2x = 20 - 4y$ (which is obtained by merely doubling it), or any other, derived, like this, immediately from the former; since this expresses no new relation between x and y , but repeats in another form the same...
